

College of Communication Arts & Sciences

School of Journalism

404 Wilson Road
Room 305
East Lansing, MI
48824

MSU is an affirmative-action, equal-opportunity employer.

Kim Margolis
Multiplatform adviser, The State News
Adjunct professor MSU School of Journalism

Dear Internship Coordinator:

I am writing to recommend Bella Johnson for your sports internship.

Bella has worked at The State News for two years and has filled many positions with energy, enthusiasm and hard work. Since the day she joined us, she's always been willing to jump in and do whatever is necessary. Her big break came here when someone was underachieving on a major beat and Bella was overachieving on a lesser beat. We added her to the major beat and everything fell into place.

You can see by Bella's work samples that she is a good sports writer. You can see that she is a good interviewer and a writer who comes up with interesting angles.

What you can't know is how perfect she would be for your job description that asks for the intersection of sports and other topics. Bella isn't solely a sportswriter. She can do it all. In fact, Bella is one of the three reporters who were embedded on campus during last year's mass shooting.

If you have any questions, please e-mail me at margol38@msu.edu

Best,

Kim Margolis
Internship Coordinator
MSU School of Journalism